Webinar:

Navigating Small Business Resources in a Crisis

Please join us for an informational webinar hosted by the Bay Area Small/Social Enterprise Task Force (BASE Force), with support from Berkeley Law, All Home California, and Morrison & Foerster LLP, focused on the resources currently available to help small businesses and nonprofits in these very challenging times. This webinar, intended for Bay Area small business and social enterprise owners with fewer than 25 employees, will cover:

- Resources BASE Force has to offer
- A summary of current financial and technical aid available at the local, state, and federal levels, as well as private and philanthropic aid
- An overview of the basic provisions of the federal resources available
- Answers to frequently asked questions
- How to attend upcoming group “office hours” with experienced attorneys to help walk you through your questions related to government funding

The presenters for this webinar will be:

Audio Dial-In:
888 788 0099 (US toll free)

Meeting ID: 527 839 619
Password: baseforce

 The office hours are intended to be a resource for small businesses and nonprofits to learn information about various resources and legal issues. They are not intended to offer legal advice and the leaders of the office hours are not able to represent office-hour participants as their attorneys.*

- Moderator: Adam Sterling, Executive Director of the Berkeley Center for Law and Business, UC Berkeley School of Law
- Tina Reynolds, Partner at the law firm Morrison & Foerster
- Kaela Colwell, Associate at the law firm Morrison & Foerster
- Megan Niedermeyer, Head of Legal & Compliance at Gusto

Introducing BASE Force

The Bay Area Small/Social Enterprise Task Force (BASE Force) is a consortium of legal, financial, and nonprofit professionals working together to connect Bay Area small businesses with the resources they need during the COVID-19 pandemic. The task force is focused on collecting local, state, federal, and private/nonprofit resources for Bay Area small businesses impacted by COVID-19 and disseminating this information in a digestible way as quickly as possible. In addition, the task force plans to provide small businesses with weekly access to live support from lawyers and financial professionals via virtual office hours.

Brought to you by BASE, the Bay Area Small/Social Enterprise Task Force.

With support from UC Berkeley, Morrison & Foerster, LLP, All Home California, Gusto, Emerson Collective, White Sand Investor Group, NextWorld, Facebook, Kiva, and WFPC/Omidyar.
