

Laura Pagey Biography

I started my legal career in 1996 at the Tulare County District Attorney's Office prosecuting misdemeanors including DUIs. I later was specially assigned to prosecute felony large quantity illegal drug sale cases and felony DV cases.

In 2002, I joined the Solano County District Attorney's Office where I was a prosecutor until I retired in 2017. During my time in the Solano County District Attorney's Office, I prosecuted misdemeanors (including DUIs), general felonies (including felony DUIs and vehicular manslaughter), major white-collar crime, and homicides.

After returning from a short retirement in New Zealand, I started my family law practice in February 2019. My practice includes, but is not limited to, acting as Minor's Counsel and as a Parenting Coordinator.

In addition to my family law work, I currently serve as a judicial officer for the Contra Costa County Sheriff's Coroner's Inquests. The inquests involve presenting the facts of officer involved fatalities to a jury to determine the mode of death. This occasionally involves people driving while under the influence.
